

AMSEC's integration of processes comprises the foundation of our approach to habitability improvement installation services. We are arguably the most experienced Navy shipboard habitability improvement contractor in the business, with more than 19,000 upgrades to habitability components. We provide habitability solutions, including design, planning and integrated logistic support, providing a full life-cycle support capability. AMSEC possesses the organizational infrastructure necessary to deliver a broad spectrum of shipboard habitability service encompassing crew living spaces, sanitary facilities, galley and laundry equipment, HVAC systems and associated ventilation ducting and chilled water piping, electrical distribution and lighting circuits, deck coverings and space furnishings.

Summary

Most importantly many of AMSEC's habitability professionals have prior military experience; they understand that they are not working on a space, but a home. Our people understand that shipboard living and working conditions must be more than just adequate to sustain maximum personnel effectiveness and comfort. They ensure the habitability improvements accomplished give our sailors a better place to live as well as work.
